SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 PER YEAR

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1950

VOL. 59 — NO. 45

SLOTS MUST GO NOW

Observations...

Lack of interest in an off-year election was true again this year. Less than one-fifth of the registered voters of the county participated in the election. This is not good. The habit of failing to vote will grow on you, and you should be interested in all phases of your government. Even though we do not have a two party system in Mississippi, and the Democratic candidates were not in any danger of being defeated, there were some constitutional amendments which should have had your attention. These matters should be given careful consideration; oft times they are passed and complaints arise, or if they fail to pass and our constitution appears to be antiquated, a hue and cry arises, yet many of those complaining are not interested enough to vote when they should.

A total of $185,185.00 in building permits was issued by the Commissioner of Public Utilities of the City of Bay St. Louis during the months of September and October, 1950. Four permits totaling $153,200.00 were issued in September and fifteen permits totaling $31,975.00 were issued in October.

We want to congratulate our good friend Hardin Schattuck, manager of the Coast Electric, and his very capable Board of Directors for the splendid and smooth working program they put on for the annual meeting at Bay High Gymnasium last Saturday. It was really a big day for Bay St. Louis, and we think the business people of the city should join in to make it even bigger and more attractive.

"And certainly" the big show of the annual meeting of the Coast Electric was Jimmie Arrington, Editor of the News Commercial, Mayor of Collins, Mississippi, wit and humorist of national renown. Jimmie kept the attention of the large crowd and kept them in stitches most of the time. We thoroughly enjoyed his talk, and we want to tell the boys who may be considering running against Jimmie for the Lieutenant Governor's office, he is going to be hot stuff to handle.

William Colmer Wins Easily; Three Amendments Approved

Mrs. A. Benigno To Lead Stanislaus Band Auxiliary

Mrs. Rosalie Benigno was elected president of the St. Stanislaus Band Auxiliary at the organization's first meeting of the year, Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Lucien M. Gex.

Other officers chosen were Mrs. Lucien M. Gex, vice-president; Mrs. Joseph Kern, secretary; Mrs. Joseph R. Scharff, treasurer.

The members present and Brother Romuald, band director, outlined the program for the year. The first event will be a Christmas party for the band members. All mothers who have sons in the band are urged to join the Auxiliary and take an active part in its activities. Membership is open to anyone interested in the band; dues are $1.00 a year. Membership cards can be obtained by sending dues to Mrs. Scharff.

Last year, though they had just organized, the mothers entertained the band members at parties and gave each boy a band letter.

Steal Trophies from Bay High

An adding machine, a radio and 50 or 60 trophies extending back to the year 1928, were taken from the Bay St. Louis high school building Tuesday night, November 7, S. J. Ingram, superintendent announced.

Mr. Ingram said that when the janitor and janitress, Clarence Randolph and Mrs. Flora Capdone, opened the building at 6:00 a.m. Wednesday, they found the empty case in which the trophies were kept on the floor; they immediately phoned Mr. Ingram and the police.

The loss, the superintendent stated, is estimated at over $1000; some of the articles, he said, were covered with a little insurance.

The trophies were those that the students of Bay High had received

Only a small portion of the registered voters of Hancock County went to the polls Tuesday to vote in the general election. The incumbent, William M. Colmer, had no difficulty in defeating Frank H. Harper, his only opponent in the race. Colmer won by a large majority.

D. M. Russell, Sr., who ran for Chancellor, and Circuit Judge L. C. Corban, Democratic nominee, had no opposition in the general election.

In the race for congressman, William M. Colmer, received 789 votes to Frank W. Harper's 129 votes. Harper carried only one box, Rocky Hill. Judge D. M. Russell received a total of 778 votes. Circuit Court Judge L. C. Corban, received 798 votes.

All proposed constitutional amendments received a majority of the votes cast in Hancock County. House Concurrent Resolution No. 10, which would permit the wife of a minister to vote after a six months residence received 680 votes for, and 251 votes against. Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 24, which would allow the State Auditor to succeed himself passed by a 532 to 399 vote.

The proposed constitutional amendment to increase the number of supreme court judges from six to nine (Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 10) also won by a vote of 676 to 255.

Voting throughout the county was extremely light. With approximately 5,000 registered voters in Hancock County, only about a thousand went to the polls last Tuesday.

for excelling in football, basketball, boxing, track, tennis, band, and county field day meets.

There were no clues as to the identity of the culprits; but fresh tracks were discovered showing that a truck had driven to the building and away from it. It has not been determined how entrance to the building was gained.

Spradley Motors in Pass Christian was completely destroyed by fire November 2. Fire fighters were unable to control the inferno which spread rapidly. Gas pumps and tanks made fire fighting extremely dangerous, but alert firemen kept the blaze from causing an explosion. The entire contents of the building, including several new cars, were destroyed. H. E. Spradley, owner, said that the losses were covered by insurance.

Brother Lambert, Former President Saint Stanislaus Dies Wednesday

Brother Lambert, former president of Saint Stanislaus, died at the Mercy Hospital in New Orleans Wednesday, November 8, at 6:10 p. m.

Funeral services will be held in the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf today at 9:00 a. m.; Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. J. Gmelch will be celebrant of the Requiem High Mass to be sung by the Brothers' choir.

ENTERED INSTITUTE IN 1889

Brother Lambert (Sidney Fairfield) was born in Port Huron, Michigan, November 17, 1876. He entered the Institute of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart at Arthabaskaville, Quebec, Canada, in 1889 and was professed several years later. He was appointed to Saint Stanislaus as teacher in 1895 and distinguished himself as a conscientious teacher with a marked ability to secure perfect discipline both in class and out of it. He remained at Saint Stanislaus until after 1904 and assisted at the reconstruction of the College after the disastrous fire of the previous year.

PRESIDENT OF STANISLAUS

He served as vice-president on several occasions at Stanislaus, and was president for two terms, the last from 1919 to 1925. He was a popular administrator both with the townspeople and the parents of the students.

APPOINTED PROVINCIAL

Brother Lambert was highly esteemed by members of his order, and was elected to represent them at the highest councils of the Brothers in Europe three times, in 1931 he was appointed provincial Superior of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart in the United States; he held this position for two terms, resigning in 1937. The duties of this office were arduous, especially with the depression at its height. The matter of financing the numerous works of the Brothers was a constant source of worry for him and resulted in undermining his health.

He served as principal of Saint

The Honorable D. M. Russell, Sr., Judge of the Chancery Court of Hancock County, signed an order granting a temporary injunction in the causes known as the "slot machine" cases Thursday morning, November 9, 1950. The hearing of these cases was continued at the regular term of the Chancery Court, for hearing on Thursday, due to the illness of Weaver Gore one of the attorneys representing the defendants.

The motion for a temporary injunction in these matters, filed by JAMES V. ROBERTSON, attorney representing Leo W. Seal, the petitioner in these cases was not opposed by counsel representing the defendants, nor did they oppose the signing of the order by the Chancellor; however, they did not waive any of their rights upon the final hearing of these cases on the question of the permanent injunction.

CANNOT HAVE SLOTS

Under the order granting the temporary injunction, the defendants named in the order to-wit: John and Sylvester Benigno, Joe Colson, E. O. Craddock, Edward Cuevas, T. A. Dean, Mrs. Nettie Lavre, Mrs. C. D. Geoghegan, William Glass, Edward Green, Jr., Mrs. Sam (Weiva) Haas, Frenius Kennedy, Mrs. Lon Lachner, Eric Larsen, A. L. Lombardo, Harry Lynch, A. W. McKay, J. W. Maskew, Tom Maunni, Mr. and Mrs. Charue Mollere, Edwin Orr, F. Rogers, August Scalfid, Walter Scrimshaw, O. J. Tucker, Melvin Vime, Oswald Vime, Emory L. Watkins and Emilio Cue, and Mr. and Mrs. Emory L. Watkins, their agents, servants, employees and tenants are enjoined and restrained until the further orders of the court, from exhibiting or operating or permitting to be exhibited or operated slot machines or gambling devices in any other place in Hancock County, Mississippi, or removing from such places any such machines or devices now thereat.

BOUND BY ACTIONS

The court stated that it was not necessary for the issuance of a writ of injunction by the clerk, nor the service of the writ by the sheriff; continuing the Judge said, "from the time that I affix my signature to this order, these persons are enjoined and are bound by the effects of the order. They are here in court represented by counsel, and of course are bound by these actions."

40 INJUNCTIONS SECURED

This brings to 40 the total number of injunctions which have been secured in the Chancery

Court of Hancock County against the illegal operations of slot machines in the various places of business.

The complainant Leo D. Seal, was represented by Stokes V. Robertson of Jackson, Miss., and the defendants by Weaver Gore of Jackson, Miss., and the firm of Gex and Gex of Bay St. Louis.

Eucharistic Congress Set For Bay St. Louis

The Diocesan Eucharistic Congress will be held in Bay St. Louis Wednesday, November 29, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. J. Gmelch announced today.

Msgr. Gmelch, who is chairman of the Eucharistic Congress, said that priests from all over the diocese will attend the event. Most Rev. Richard O. Geow, Bishop of Natchez, will preside at the ceremony.

Further plans for the Diocesan Congress will be announced at a later date Msgr. Gmelch concluded.

C of C Launches Membership Drive

The annual membership drive of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce was launched last Friday night at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the organization. The goal of the campaign is to raise membership in the Chamber of Commerce to 150 members.

Assurance was given that practically every present member will pay up again, and that many former members will rejoin. Howard LeTissier, president of the group, said, "Let us all give this drive a big push and put it over within the next few days. You will either be billed by mail, or will be contacted by someone on the membership committee. Let us all work harmoniously this year, for the betterment of Bay St. Louis and Hancock County."

3,000 Attend Coast Electric Power Association's Annual Members Meeting Saturday

Almost three thousand members of the Coast Electric Power Association jam-packed the Bay High School auditorium Saturday, November 4, for the Annual Members meeting of the association. Dr. C. W. Fountain, president of Coast Electric, called the meeting to order at 9:30 a. m., and introduced Mr. J. R. Tate of Picayune, who gave the invocation.

After the prayer, Dr. Fountain presented H. H. Shattuck, manager of the Coast Electric Power Association, who introduced Mayor Warren J. Carver of Bay St. Louis. The mayor made a brief speech of welcome to the crowd. Howard LeTissier, President of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, also made a short speech at the meeting.

Harry McCollum of the Capital Electric Power Association acted as Master of Ceremonies throughout the day-long program and kept everything moving right on schedule. McCollum also provided the audience with a number of laughs by telling several humorous anecdotes. Musical entertainment was provided by the Southern Serenaders from Biloxi.

BOARD MEMBERS REELECTED

All nine members of the Board of Directors of the association were reelected by a unanimous vote at the afternoon session. Dr. Fountain thanked the members of the co-op in the name of the board for reelecting them. He said that he considered such an overwhelming vote a "vote of confidence," and that the members of the Board of Directors would continue to be the best of their ability to continue serving all members of the Coast Electric Power Association in an efficient manner.

HIGHLIGHT OF DAY

Highlighting the events of the day was the address by the Honorable James Arrington of Collins, Mississippi. Arrington's humor kept the huge audience rocking with laughter for 40 minutes.

PRIZE WINNERS

Throughout the day prizes were given away by Coast Electric. The early bird prize, a portable radio, was won by Mrs. Huston Frierson of Picayune. Cloza Ne-caise of Pass Christian won the grand prize, a General Electric home freezer. The other major prize awards were won by Mrs. Clarence Frierson of Picayune, a Frigidaire Electric range; Mrs. Elsie Tartavouille of Bay St. Louis, a Kenmore Washing machine; Adloe Orr of New Orleans a RCA Victor phonograph; and E. L. Johnson of Nicholson, a Westing-

THE DAWN OF A NEW ERA

The dawn of a new era is gradually rising above the low clouds of the dominating corrupt influences of a racketeering element in Hancock County.

The decision of The Honorable D. M. Russell, Sr., judge of the Chancery Court, granting temporary injunctions in some 30 cases petitioning for an injunction to arrest the operation of slot machines in the places of business of the defendant in these causes, should be a memorable one for the people of this county. It means the end of a syndicate, controlled by men who have devoted their time and energy in exercising corrupting influences upon officers charged with the enforcement of the law, and who have used many of the business people of this county as their tools in their nefarious scheme to root the nickels, dimes and quarters from those in this county who could probably least afford to lose the money, which, on many occasions, had been set aside for their household expenses.

It is unfortunate indeed that it became necessary for individuals to have to seek relief in the Chancery Court, but it was the only recourse. Those charged with the enforcement of the law dismally failed in their duties. Judge Russell's court is not a law enforcement court. It is a court of equity. On many occasions when these matters have come before him, he has excoriated the actions of the law enforcement officers, for their failure in doing their duty; but his words fell upon ears deafened by the tinkle of the blood money of the racketeer.

With the signing of the decrees in these cases the total number of locations enjoined to date is approximately 40. There may be a few stragglers in small places not as yet enjoined, but they may as well accept the cue and withdraw these machines of their own accord.

The syndicate which has been operating in Hancock County is composed of business men. Men whose leadership for good could have meant much to our county. It is still too late for these same men to see the error of their ways, reverse their step, forget the so-called easy money method, and establish for themselves, and for posterity, a record of accomplishments.

We must commend the men and women of this county who have fought so valiantly in this cause, many carrying on in the face of threats of retaliation; but this did not deter them from their course. There was a righteous cause; and as William Jennings Bryan once said "The humblest citizen of all the land when clad in the armor of a righteous cause is stronger than all the hosts of error." So it appears in Hancock County humble citizens found it necessary to seek relief in an unbearable situation, and clad in the armor of a righteous cause they emerged victorious, over the forces of error and corruption. The dawn of a new day may be in the making for Hancock County.

LOGTOWN NEWS

Bride-To-Be Honored At Shower

By JAY METZ

Miss Thelma Rouchon was hostess last Friday evening, November 3, at a pre-nuptial shower given in honor of Miss Betty June Moran, whose engagement to Kenneth Parvin of Gulfport was announced recently.

In a setting of beautifully arranged flowers, the bride-to-be was literally showered with gifts. In the presence of approximately 30 friends and guests, Miss Moran opened packages after packages and passed the contents around for all to see. Her gifts included glassware, towels, tablecloths, linen, hosiery, kitchen ware and equipment, and many other items too numerous to mention, but nevertheless useful and appropriate. Refreshments were served following the "unveiling."

The election of November 7 proceeded quietly here, with slightly less than 50 voters turning out to cast their ballots.

Mrs. Charles Matherne of Pearlinton is spending the month of November on a visit at the home of her parents in Marion, Kansas.

Reverend George Light, of Decatur, Georgia, and at present a student of the New Orleans Baptist Seminary, was the guest preacher at Logtown Church Sunday, November 5, in the absence of Rev. Thompson.

The Eastern Star will hold an important regular meeting at the Lodge Hall next Tuesday, November 14, at 7:30 p. m. All members are urged to attend for initiation of two candidates, other items of business and a pleasant social hour.

Mrs. George Dawsey of Picayune has been a guest of Mrs. Jones for this week.

Mrs. Bristow departed last Saturday for Eagle River, Wisconsin to attend the funeral of a close relative.

Miss Nettie Holloman, principal of a junior high school in Hattiesburg, returned to Logtown over the weekend where she was the guest of Miss Mae Jones.

Guest of Mrs. Lamar Otis Wednesday were Mrs. June Russ and her son, Henry, of Long Beach.

Roy Baxter Sr., recently received word from Montgomery, Alabama informing him of the death of his brother, John H. Baxter. Mr. John was 81 years old.

KILN NEWS

ORGANIZE P.T.A.

By Mrs. Gerald Guidroz
Please Call 1084-R-2 If You Have Any News Items.

Mrs. Cy Cuevas was elected president of the Kiln P.T.A. at a meeting held Monday night in the school auditorium.

Other officers for the year are: Edwin Bolián, vice-president; Miss Gloria Martin, secretary; and Mrs. Lacoste, treasurer.

About 50 members attended this second P.T.A. meeting of the school year. The gathering opened with an introductory talk by Gerald Guidroz, principal of the school.

Mrs. C. C. McDonald, of Bay St. Louis, presided over the election of officers, and then delivered a speech on her recent trip to the United Nations, with emphasis on the cooperation that she noticed in members there, and the competence that they seemed to have in their work.

At 8:30 a Texaco show was presented to the gathering; prizes of kitchen utensils were given to the ladies, farm equipment to the men, and candy and gum to the children, who also participated in a bubble blowing contest.

An Abbott and Costello comedy was shown together with the main feature movie, "Tex," the story of a Texas boy raising a champion Hereford bull.

Sam Cooley of Kiln passed away in Biloxi last weekend. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Berta Cooley, and two children, Jerry and Joseph, the latter of Bay St. Louis.

Basketball games have been coming fast and furious for the Kiln school boys' and girls' teams, with our teams victorious in most of their tilts.

Tonight's game with Industrial High will be played in Pearl River County, Tuesday, there will be a skirmish with McNeil High School at McNeil.

Wednesday night's game with Savannah resulted in a 41-20 victory for Kiln girls' team, and a 27-24 score for the boys.

The grammar-school teams have been in the limelight as well. Friday last they played a game with Lakeshore boys and girls, running up winning scores again for Kiln.

Miss Lucille Williams of Magnolia, Mississippi spent last week as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Moran. Miss Williams is at present employed with the Southern Bell Telephone Company in Brookhaven.

Everyone is reminded to attend the chicken spaghetti dinner being given at the Ladies Altar Society at "Glass" restaurant tomorrow night.

Dale Seals was elected executive editor of Kiln School's 1950-51 yearbook, in elections held this week. Other positions on the school annual are: Mike Ladner, business manager; Pat Favre, makeup editor and Norma Depree, superintendent's secretary in charge of book files.

Parents from San Francisco, Bambie reports that he and all other school children are required to wear identification tags showing name and home address, useful in the event his school should be bombed. He says he enjoys wearing them but hopes they won't have to be used.

We here may be glad that we and our school children are located in what may be termed a relatively quiet and non-strategic sector of the U. S.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Wyman were hosts Saturday evening at their home for a birthday party given in honor of Mrs. Wyman's brother, Billie Ross Hoyer, of Pearlinton. Billie celebrated his eighteenth birthday. Many of the younger set were guests for the occasion.

Mrs. Hettie Mitchell, who returned to her home here after a week's stay with her daughter in New Orleans, was returned to New Orleans Tuesday evening when her condition became worse. She was taken to New Orleans by her son, Virgil, of Bay St. Louis, and will be under the care of a daughter who is a nurse. We all hope for her a rapid recovery.

Devises Saving Method for Raising Logs

By J. G. Guthrie, Illinois Central Railroad and D. E. Lauderburn, Soil Conservation Service

Louie Pennington, a tree farmer in Lawrence County, Mississippi, has devised an ingenious method of raising his logs off of the ground to facilitate sawing.

Mr. Pennington encountered the same trouble as everyone else when he recently started harvesting the trees from his tree farm—that of the saw scraping the ground at the bottom side of the log. To eliminate this he devised a home-made "Log Jack," that easily raises any size log about six inches off the ground and allows him to saw entirely through the log without scraping his saw on the ground; or the log pinching his saw before completing the cut.

When Mr. Pennington encountered the need for something to raise his logs in the woods for sawing in lengths for ties, fuelwood, or pulpwood, he looked around his farmstead and found an old "middle-buster" log beam. This, he reasoned, had just the right amount of curve to fit almost any log of the size he would be sawing. He then found a piece of 1½ inch water pipe five feet long that he fitted over the straight end of the "middle-buster" beam to serve as a handle. He next needed a fulcrum on which to raise the logs. This he made by using a piece of 12 x 12 x ½ inch oak for a base and two pieces of 2 x 6 inch oak eight inches long which he fastened edge, parallel on the base. Near the ends of these two up-right pieces which are about 2 inches apart, he fixed a ½ inch bolt for the fulcrum. This bolt he passed through the hole already in the "middle-buster" beam. It was now complete.

To lift a log, the entire jack is raised, and the curved end of the beam is driven under the log with a single downward stroke (much as a mowing scythe is used). The handle is then brought down, bringing the 12 inch square platform to the ground and the fulcrum into use. The log is thus raised about six inches off the ground with the curved plow beam holding it from rolling, and it can then be sawed without danger of scraping the saw on the ground, or the saw being pinched.

Search For Control Of Imported Ants

State College, Miss.—Control of the imported fire ant, which has been present for several years in Southeast Mississippi and has spread to the Northeast Prairie section of the state in the last few years, is being sought by the Mississippi Experiment Station. This ant is a vicious stinger. It builds large mounds which clog mowers, destroys sprouting seeds of some crops and causes damage in other ways.

Various fumigants including methyl bromide and chloropicrin have killed large numbers of ants but survivors have usually been able to escape and move to a new location even in cold wet weather. H. B. Green, Experiment Station entomologist reported.

In the laboratory, dusting ants with 0.25 percent chlordane for one minute and removing to clean surroundings has given 100 percent kill in 24 hours. Chlordane sprays and dusts applied to entire areas have been very effective on small mounds, but some large colonies have escaped.

Five percent chlordane dust applied to mounds has given excellent control, but some ants have usually escaped and survived. The method of dust application to mounds varies in effectiveness. The most simple and effective method devised consisted of dusting the mound and immediate surrounding area with five percent chlordane contained in two layers of closely woven burlap sack. After dusting, the mound was hoed down level and another dusting was given.

While, to date, no method showing promise of eradication has been found, temporary relief from this ant may be had by use of fumigants, or mounds or area treatments with chlordane dust or sprays.

The ant mounds in the Northeast Prairie are found mostly on terraces, pond dams, ditch banks, fence rows, and around stumps. Most of the infestations are confined to pastures, fields, and road banks. Very few mounds may be found in the Johnson grass hay meadows or hardwood forests.

Jackson as "good will ambassador" for one week.

"Before we were able to definitely announce all arrangements for Mr. Davis' appearance here in Jackson," Commander Wells said, "we checked with a number of Jackson civic, community and educational leaders to determine the prospect for such a speaking engagement. We have been encouraged in this project and from all advance reports, it appears that we will fill the Jackson Municipal Auditorium to overflowing with adults and students who want to hear Mr. Davis speak and perhaps ask him some questions about national problems."

Elmer Davis Will Address The V. F. W.

Jackson — (Special) — Elmer Davis, noted Washington news commentator, will speak in Jackson late in November, it was announced today by Erskine Wells, commander of the World War II Post No. 6473, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Davis, who is considered by many authorities to be America's top news analyst, has accepted an invitation by members of the local V. F. W. post to speak in the Jackson Municipal Auditorium at 8:00 p.m. Saturday, November 25.

"What's Happening In The World Today" will be the subject of Commander Davis' personal speaking engagement. Davis, dean of Washington news commentators, will discuss the important National and International events of the day.

Commander Wells has announced that following Mr. Davis' revealing and authoritative talk, persons in the audience will be invited to ask questions of Mr. Davis by way of a specially-installed public address system which will reach into all sections of the auditorium.

The general public will be invited to the speaking engagement. Tickets may be secured from any member of the veteran's post, from the Municipal Auditorium box office, or by mail order through Coullet-Lea, Inc., P. O. Box 944, Jackson, Mississippi.

"In order that a large number of people may hear this important speaker," Commander Wells announced, "we have established low admission prices, compared with any other public event to be held in the City of Jackson this season. Adult admission will be $1.00, plus tax. Junior, high and senior high, and college students will be able to secure student tickets at fifty cents each, plus tax."

"One of the five basic platforms of the World War II Memorial Post, V. F. W., is to promote unselfish projects designed to benefit the entire community," Wells said. The Elmer Davis personal appearance is one of those projects.

Mr. Davis has had wide experience as a reporter and writer for many years. He is expected to bring the Jackson audience a dependable interpretation of the news and the valuable experience and background he has gained as author, journalist and OWI director.

During the past war when citizens of the United States were bewildered by the conflicting reports of war news, Elmer Davis, in his position as Director of the Office of War Information, had the courage to release the news as it was. Only for security reasons did he ever allow the news to be delayed.

Davis is a veteran overseas traveler. Because of his intimate association with the important figures in world affairs, he speaks with authority and conviction. He reports the news in an unbiased manner.

"Ever since the outbreak of hostilities in Korea, we feel the citizens of Jackson, Mississippi and the United States have been more or less confused with regard to the pressing national and international events which most certainly is touching many of our families and may touch many more before world peace is attained," Commander Wells said.

"For this reason we felt that our small V. F. W. post could provide many answers to conflicting reports and ideas by bringing an eminent news analyst to Jackson to answer, first-hand, many of the questions that are puzzling us," he said.

The World War II Memorial Post has established a record since the end of World War II for sponsoring important community service projects. The organization has gone on record on numerous occasions in standing for a five-point program of action, including aid to widows and dependents of veterans killed while in the service of their country, aid to veterans totally or partially disabled as a result of service in the armed forces, state or national financial assistance to veterans solely on the basis of merit and need, promotion of Americanism and defense against encroachments from within or without upon our democratic way of life, and promotion of unselfish projects designed to benefit the entire community.

In line with its community service policy last year the V. F. W. post conducted a competition among Jackson high school boys, first an essay contest, then an oratorical contest, to select a typical young Jacksonian for the honor of representing Jackson, Mississippi and the nation as "good will ambassador" to Mexico on an all-expense tour. This was co-sponsored by the Mexican Government Tourist Commission.

Early in 1950, the veterans organization co-sponsored with the Mexican Government Tourist Commission a return engagement in which a Mexican girl was selected in an essay contest from among Mexican high school students of both sexes, and sent to

New Switching Centers Established in 4 Communities... 8 More in Progress

New dial switching centers have been established in 4 communities as a part of expanding rural telephone facilities in Mississippi, and 8 more are scheduled for service in the next few months.

The four new switching centers in operation are at Sturgis in Oktibbeha County; Union Church, Jefferson County; Handle, Winston County; and Vangleave, Jackson County. These switching centers are now serving around five hundred telephones and have additional capacity for serving many more.

The 8 additional switching centers scheduled for the early future are to be located at Hurley, Jackson County; Lena and Walnut Grove, Leake County; Benton, Yazoo County; Sledge, Panola County; Weir, Choctaw County; Brooksville, Neshoba County, and Wren, Monroe County.

Mississippi covers a lot of territory, and filling its large and growing demand for farm telephone service is a big and costly job. But we're moving along at a fast pace to make the service available to more and more farmers and more valuable to all Mississippians.

State Corn Festival Set For Nov. 22nd

State College, Miss.—Mississippi Corn Festival Day, honoring men and youths who produced 100 bushels of corn per acre to help raise the state average to a record 27 bushels per acre this year compared to 16 and one-half bushels in 1947, will be held here November 22, according to Dr. Fred T. Mitchell, president of Mississippi State College.

All white 4-H Club and FFT members, veterans in the farm training program and other farmers who reached the 100-bushel goal will be invited to the Corn Festival. Also present will be the county agricultural workers who advised these outstanding farmers.

A program for negro men and boys who made similar records will be announced later.

Dr. George Scarsteth, Lafayette, Ind., director of research for the American Farm Bureau Federation and one of the country's leading agronomists, will make the main address. Exhibits and other talks and features are planned.

Certificates of membership in the Mississippi one Hundred Bushel Corn Club will be presented successful producers by the Mississippi Bankers Association and the Agricultural Extension Service. This is the third year that these two groups have jointly encouraged improved corn production as part of a sound agricultural program for the state.

The record 27 bushel state average means an increase of $37,000,000 in the yearly value of the Mississippi corn crop since 1947. Average yield last year was 23 bushels. Last year 575 farmers were awarded corn production certificates at the program here.

Thomas R. Linebarger, Benton County, was top producer honored last year with a yield of 178 and one-third bushels of corn per acre. He was presented the J. D. Majure memorial trophy, made available by I. W. Majure, Union, president of the One Hundred Bushel Corn Club, in memory of his father who produced 188 bushels to the acre in 1928.

Much of the corn produced in Mississippi is profitably used right at home in expanded cattle and hog enterprises. Marketed through livestock, the crop is often worth two or three times its value if sold as grain.

The Mississippi Seven-step Corn Program, encouraged by all agricultural agencies, has been the secret of increasing the yield per acre for the state. Features of this program include selecting adapted land, using plenty of fertilizer and applying it properly, recommended hybrids, correct spacing, weed control, and harvesting early as protection against rats and weevils.

Duke's No Longer
"Going Straight"

Drove past Duke Morrison's place Thursday. Duke was out plowing, but he stopped his tractor and we talked awhile. Said I noticed he'd taken up contour plowing.

"Well," Duke said, "Dad and I've plowed this land nearly 60 years between us, without paying attention to the slope. We've generally had a good yield, but we're on about a 4% grade."

"Always figured I'd look into this contour stuff someday," he went on, "then when I saw how it upped Whitey Fisher's production—I was darn sure I wanted to try it myself." From where I sit, any "improvement plan" will grow if one man demonstrates its advantages to his neighbors. Like the Self-Regulation Program sponsored by the Brewing Industry. Under this voluntary program, retailers selling beer co-operate by keeping their places of business clean, bright, and orderly. One retailer sees how the Program helps the others—then he's quick to join up too.

Women Voters Present City Survey

At the request of the Provisional League of Women Voters of Bay St. Louis, the Sea Coast Echo is printing, in weekly installments, the results of this organization's first project—the facts and figures concerning the City of Bay St. Louis.

Anyone who has not obtained a copy of the booklet published by the League may do so by applying to this paper or by calling Mrs. E. C. Samuel at 560. It is also suggested that these articles be clipped for future references.

This study was done by the League to acquaint the residents of Bay St. Louis and Hancock County with their own town. Some of the information contained herein is subject to change; for instance, the millage, which has, since publication of the booklet, been reduced a half mill. Therefore, as changes occur, the corrections should be made in the individual's booklet or series of articles.

The League expects, from time to time, to publish more material concerning good government; it will be beneficial to keep and refer to its publications.

The information that will be carried in this paper for the next couple of weeks was gathered by eleven committees composed of members of the local League of Women Voters. These committees interviewed the public officials and reported the facts as they were presented to them.

This is a synopsis of the reports made over a period of many weeks to the organization's members, and this information has been made public to acquaint the citizens with their city's praise-worthy features, its short-comings and its possibilities for the future.

TOWN'S BACKGROUND

CHARACTERS

Bay St. Louis, the county seat of Hancock County, is located on the Bay of St. Louis and on U. S. Highway 90, about sixty miles from New Orleans. Its first settlers were Choctaw Indians, many of whose descendants are citizens of the town today. In 1699 the French explorer Bienville and five of his men landed on our shores on the birthday of Louis IX and named this body of water the Bay of Saint Louis.

In January, 1858, the citizens of the small town, which had sprung up here as a result of French shipping through the bay, organized themselves, chose a mayor and aldermen, and called their settlement the City of Shieldsboro. In February, 1862, an ordinance was passed, changing the name of the town to Bay St. Louis.

The population of Bay Saint Louis, according to the 1950 census, is 4,664, which represents an increase of over 500 over the 1940 figure of 4,148. Most of the town's revenue comes from tourist business, commuters' trade, and fishing. Like most small towns, ours has many and varied civic and social organizations.

The public library is located on Main Street at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Its running expenses are divided between the city and the county, and further funds come from an annual tag day, individual donations, and occasional book reviews. It is supplied with additional material four times a year by the state bookmobile.

Bay Saint Louis has one Methodist, one Episcopal, one Baptist and two Catholic churches for white residents. For colored residents there are one Catholic, two Methodist, and two Baptist churches. St. Augustine's Seminary, the only Catholic seminary in the United States for training colored priests, is also located here. Each Church has several religious societies.

There are three weekly newspapers here—The Sea Coast Echo, the Hancock County Eagle, and the Light.

FORM OF GOVERNMENT

Since 1927, Bay Saint Louis has operated under the commission form of government. The governing body, called the Commission Council, is composed of a mayor, a commissioner of finance, and a commissioner of public utilities. The Council, which has jurisdiction over all matters pertaining to the municipality, meets on the first and third Monday of every month, and the meetings are open to the public. The mayor and the commissioners are elected for four years each and may succeed themselves indefinitely. Each receives a salary of $3600.

TOOLS OF GOVERNMENT

Personnel: Including the three members of the Commission Council, there are thirty persons working in the city government, and forty-two in the public schools. They are hired by the Commission Council and the School Board.

Town government jobs are classified as follows:

The Mayor, Commissioner of Finance, and Commissioner of Public Utilities.

Police Department: The chief, and three subordinates.

Fire Department: Chief and two subordinates. (There are also seventeen unpaid volunteer firemen.)

Other employees are unclassified, with the exception of one road grader. There is no promotion or retirement program. Employees are hired and fired at the will of the Commission Council. Several employees do clerical work and should be classified as skilled.

FINANCE:

The Commissioner of Finance is a member of the council responsible for handling finances in accord with the other two Commissioners. The town budget includes all revenues and expenditures, both current and capital. This budget is broken down to give detailed information as to expenditures and revenues. It is published in the public press; all members attend the meetings, and the Commission Council meetings are open to the public. Final approval is made by the Commission Council. The budget is balanced when adopted, and is administered by the Commission Council. Preparation and discussion of the budget continues through the year; it is proposed at one meeting, voted on at the following, on the first Monday of January.

The money for all town government is appropriated by the Commission Council. The Commission levies all taxes; however, the tax authority is limited by State Law.

THE TOWN HAS REACHED ITS TAX LIMIT

Moneys for all government activities are raised by ad valorem taxes, privilege licenses set by state law, building permits and mayor's court fines.

Total income for the 1949-50 fiscal year is $207,837.50.

Sources of this revenue:

Water Fund:
Water rent	$14,980.00
Ad valorem (1 mill)	3,200.00	$18,180.00
City Fund:
County ad valorem tax		6,750.00
2% franchise, Power Company		2,500.00
City Court Fines		200.00
Ad valorem (10 mills)		32,000.00
Privilege (Licenses, Permits)		3,000.00
TOTAL		$44,450.00
Assessment values:
*Real property	$2,506,300.00
*Personal Property	401,499.00
*Public Services	331,568.00
TOTAL		$3,239,357.46

Tax rate 45 1/2 mills

*On Homestead exemptions, reimbursement is made by the State Homestead Division of the Tax Commission, to the amount of 15 mills.

*Assessment on Public Services is made by the State Tax Commission; there are no exemptions on Public Service properties.

Total cost of government is as follows:

Education	$92,967.50
City	44,450.00
Water	18,180.00
Police	9,240.00
Fire	6,500.00
Hospital	1,750.00
Bond Retirement	34,000.00
Special Fund	1,750.00
Old Debts	9,000.00
TOTAL	$207,837.50

Approximately 75% of city government income is derived from property tax, and 25% from the state. There is less than 10% tax delinquency.

The Commissioner of Finance serves as the city assessor. There are no special qualifications required for the position. Property is assessed annually. There is no specified system for determining the assessments, although it is presumably based on an approximate 25% of market value.

Rolls are open to the public, and appeals may be made for review at certain times as prescribed by law.

Collection: The city funds are kept in the city depository, selected and approved under city ordinance. They are collected by the Commissioner of Finance.

The city auditor audits the funds as they are spent. The town treasury is supervised by the Commission Council.

There is a post-audit independent of the officials who spend the fund. The audit is controlled by state law.

The town debt is as follows:

Bonded, for gas system	$157,000.00
Other bonded	157,000.00
Outstanding debts	32,000.00
Total indebtedness	$346,000.00

Amount of town debts is limited by state law to 10% of an assessed valuation on bonded indebtedness.

The debt limit has been reached.

The electorate must pass on bond issues.

Materials:

Each department head makes his own purchases, subject to approval to the Commission Council. Competitive bids are used on purchases calling for an extraordinary outlay of money, and this practice is bypassed only in case of emergency.

Major equipment owned by the city is in fair condition.

VOTING INFORMATION

To be eligible to vote in Bay Saint Louis city elections one must be twenty-one years of age or older, registered at the City Hall and at the Court House, and have paid poll tax the two preceding years. Registration must have been made at least four months prior to an election.

Registration for voting in other than city elections must be made at the County Court House. Remember, unregistered citizens should register at both City Hall and at the Court House.

The next general city election will be held on the second Tuesday of June, 1953, though there will be special elections and county, state and national elections in the meantime.

In the city elections of 1948, fifteen hundred votes were cast. This represented an estimated ninety per cent of the qualified voters. This is far below the potential vote. Our aim is a citizen registering and voting 100%.

PUBLIC UTILITIES

Electric power is supplied to the town by the Mississippi Power Company under a 25 year non-exclusive (non-monopoly) franchise. Rates are presently prescribed on a fair schedule and comparable to rates in other cities of like size.

The city owns, and operates a municipal water system within the

STATE SHOWS BIG INCREASE OF GAS IN HOME HEATING

The number of Mississippi homes equipped with gas heat increased by 5,642 during the past year, a report by the state's utility points out.

About 5,769 more homes will get gas heat in the next year if heating materials continue to be available by the end of 1951, the report continues. This increase of 13 percent in homes with gas heating over the two-year period is the result of the rapid expansion of natural gas pipelines on which $22,861,000 has been spent in the state since 1946.

Pipeline and storage facilities, authorized by the Federal Power Commission in Mississippi and adjoining states since V-J Day, have brought natural gas into Mississippi in such greatly increased volume that many more thousands of homes and major industries now have the advantage of the low-cost fuel. Many large and small communities have been aided, including Jackson, according to W. Paul Jones, president of Servel, Inc., the nation's leading gas equipment and appliance manufacturer.

This new natural gas construction is part of a nationwide expansion program, in the course of which the gas utility has spent three billion dollars since August, 1945. There now are almost 300,000 miles of pipeline in service in the United States, delivering energy for manufacturing and household uses at an annual rate exceeding four thousand billion cubic feet.

Because supply still does not meet demand, the gas utilities plan still further expansion through 1954. Of the approximately $3,140,000,000 to be spent in the coming five-year period, about $2,750,000,000 will be used by the natural gas industry.

city limits. This system depends upon water wells located at certain points, with water being pumped from the wells into the water tanks and water mains. The City Commission fixes water rates; fees are determined in proportion to the number of plumbing fixtures.

The City owns and operates a municipal gas distribution system. It purchases gas at wholesale at a certain point and distributes it throughout the city over city-owned gas lines.

The city does not own or operate an incinerator or a municipal sewerage system.

Dairies Progress In The Last 40 Years

State College, Miss.,—Forty years ago not a town of 3000 population in the state had an adequate milk supply. There was not a pasteurizing plant in the state and grade "A" pasteurized milk on the family table was unheard of, declared L. A. Higgins Extension dairyman.

Today there is a year-round surplus of grade "A" milk and every town of 1,500 or more is well supplied, he said.

The good dairy cow, "the foster mother of mankind" plays an important part in the economy of our state, the dairyman stated. Dairying touches every phase of the economic life of our people.

Last year's dairy production was just slightly less than the 70 million dollar mark set in 1948. This was due to lower prices, Mr. Higgins said.

In 1910 the per capita milk consumption was less than one-fourth pint daily. Milk was mainly used to shorten coffee and in the making of farm butter.

There is no record of improved pastures in the state at that time. There were less than a dozen silos in the state and some of these were on beef cattle farms; many dairymen thought that silage would make the cows drunk or that it would make their teeth all out or cause them to give butter milk, the dairyman said.

The common diet of dairy cows was cotton seed, cotton seed hulls and cotton seed meal.

In Mississippi dairying and pastures are a big business. Mississippi dairymen supply about 60 per cent of the milk consumed in Memphis and about 25 percent of that used in New Orleans, besides sending a large amount to Birmingham, Tuscaloosa and Mobile, Mr. Higgins declared.

In the past 40 years the per capita consumption of milk has increased about four times, and according to Mr. Higgins, should increase more for better health and economy of diet.

Today there are more than 12 cheese plants in the state, manufacturing approximately 11 million pounds of cheese a year. There are 65 ice cream plants in the state providing about five million quarts of ice cream a year, he stated, declaring that between four and five million pounds of creamery butter are manufactured each year by Mississippi creameries. In addition to these there are 4 large condensing plants in the state producing a large volume of canned milk each year.

STUDY REVEALS BEST ADAPTED MUSCADINE VARIETIES

New Varieties Are Self-Fertile and Do Not Require Maintenance of Male Vines Which Produce No Fruit

State College, Miss.,—Since muscadines are so well adapted to Mississippi, the Experiment Station has recently conducted a study comparing 14 new varieties of these grapes.

Before the development of new varieties in 1948, there were no self-fertile muscadine vines available to the public, Dr. J. P. Overcash of State College explained. It was necessary then to have male wild vines nearby or to maintain in the vineyard one male vine for each eight or ten vines which bore fruit.

Two of the new self-fertile varieties are being generally recommended to growers of muscadines in Mississippi. Wallace is a bronze-fruited, pollinator variety, with vines that are vigorous and productive. The fruit, borne in rather large clusters, is somewhat smaller than Scuppernon.

Burgaw is a black-fruited, pollinator variety. The vines of this variety are also vigorous and productive. Four year-old vines produced an average of 18.5 pounds per vine in 1950. The quality of neither Burgaw nor Wallace is considered to be very outstanding, but the varieties are very useful as pollinators and the fruit is acceptable.

The only other variety which is being recommended in Mississippi from the original introductions is Toppail. It is an excellent flavored white or bronze-colored muscadine. The fruit is slightly less attractive in appearance but much superior in flavor to the variety Scuppernon and for that reason Dr. Overcash recommends it for trial.

Muscadine grapes ordinarily do not require spraying for insect or disease control. They make a valuable addition to the home fruit plantings in Mississippi. If it is possible to have only one vine then either Burgaw or Wallace should be used, Dr. Overcash says. If only two vines can be planted then one should be of the pollinator type and the other can be one of the high quality varieties such as Toppail, Hunt, Scuppernon, and Thomas.

WHICH WOULD YOU CHOOSE?

Which of these four house styles do you like best? Cozy Cape Cod? Colonial? Or Modern?

Most people prefer one of the traditional styles... yet everyone wants the most modern convenience there is—electric service, built-in and available, in every room, in any quantity, at any time!

It's a modern miracle that even the most modest American homes do have wired help, ready at the flick of a switch, for washing, cleaning, sewing, cooking—for refrigeration and entertainment and a host of other jobs.

And the cost to you? Just a few cents a day! You'll admit that's a power-full bargain!

FARMERS...

Loggers of the future

Farmers are the biggest owners of American woodlands. They own almost as much tree-growing land as do the forest industries and public agencies put together.

Timber is a crop. We can grow it, harvest it, use it, and grow it again. More and more, it is becoming a farm crop. Farmers, realizing their opportunities for profit, are becoming tree farmers, too, by managing and protecting their woodlands for continuous harvests of trees.

There's real partnership among farmers who grow trees, forest industries which transform wood into useful products, and the public which needs the thousands of things we make from wood.

IRMA JOAN LEE TO REIGN OVER BAY HIGH HOMECOMING

The Bay High football team will close the home season November 18 with their annual Homecoming game. Invitations are being issued to all former graduates of Bay High to be present for this homecoming.

The game between Lucedale and Bay High will be played at St. Stanislaus stadium November 18; following the game there will be a dance in the gymnasium for the former grads and their dates. Between halves of the football game, the Homecoming queen, Miss Irma Joan Lee, will receive her crown from Captain Billy Clapp; the Physical Education department of the school will give a show. Maids in the court are Cecil McCaleb, Helen Ruth Moran, Shirley Davis and Betty Capdepon. Their escorts are Bobby Clapp, Truman Schultz, Maaville Mas-kew and Billy Rae Bennett.

We are looking forward to one of the largest crowds of former grads in the history of the school, S. J. Ingram, Superintendent of the school, said. "Make your plans to come and enjoy these activities."

He handles himself like an old timer and his stuff goes home.

A meeting of the Alumnae of St. Joseph Academy of Bay St. Louis has been called for Sunday, November 12, at 2 P. M. At this time it is planned to form a permanent organization, and it is hoped that all of the old grads will be present. If you are a graduate of St. Joseph's won't you contact another graduate and urge them to come to the meeting.

After all the bragging we have been doing about the splendid spirit of cooperation existing in the evergrowing little city of Poyune, and us continually, telling our business men how they should follow their example, etc., etc., well, now we have to back away and take back all we have said. A dog must have slipped in their smooth running organization. The Board of Supervisors of Pearl River County want to pave the road from Poyune which comes down to the Hancock County Line above Leetown, and some of the folks in Poyune don't want to see this happen. They are circulating a petition against building this road; so my friend Chance Cole says in his column in the Poyune item and he goes on to say that leaving the road in its present state is like building a fence around Poyune to the East. . . . Chance, we are glad some of the folks in Poyune see it that way. They are going to be of real assistance to the business people of Bay St. Louis, who, if they would wake up to the opportunities, would petition the Board of Supervisors of this county to remove the barricade, and cut some route across the section of this road in Poyune. The merchants of Poyune without Hancock County trade would be in a terrible fix.

BROTHER LAMBERT

Aloysius in New Orleans from 1937 to 1943; Catholic High School in Baton Rouge from 1926 to 1931; and D'Evereux Hall in Natchez from 1943 to 1945 when his health forced him to relinquish most of his duties.

RETURNED IN 1950

Brother Lambert was retired to Saint Stanislaus September 23, 1950; here he seemed to gain in vigor and strength. However, last week his heart began to show signs of strain and he was brought to New Orleans Monday evening and entered the hospital. Intention will be in the Brothers cemetery on the grounds of Saint Stanislaus.

P. T. A. To Present Program Nov. 16th

Because such a fine program is scheduled for the Parent-Teachers Association of Pass Christian for its next meeting, a general invitation is extended to the public to be in the auditorium of the Pass Christian High School at eight o'clock on the evening of November 16.

David Wainwright will act as master of ceremonies and will introduce the guest speakers.

Dr. Wesley W. Lake, a specialist in heart disease and a member of the consultation staff at Oschner's Clinic in New Orleans, will discuss heart disease.

"Alcoholism as a community problem" is the topic to be discussed at the meeting by Bish Mathis. Mr. Mathis is a well known educator, and has worked untiringly for the past three years serving many schools and helping both students and parents to realize that alcohol is always a potential danger. Mr. Mathis, in a purely impersonal way, will point out the danger signals that show where social drinking leaves off and problem drinking begins. He is convinced that problem drinking is a disease—a disease that can be arrested. To be forewarned is to be forearmed; those who hear Mr. Mathis will know where and how to obtain help should they ever need it.

MOTHERS CLUB

PLAN A BINGO

The Mothers' Club of St. Joseph's Catholic School met Tuesday afternoon at the school library. The meeting was opened with a prayer, offered by Sister Camillus.

Plans were made for a Bingo to be held Sunday evening, November 12 at 7:30. The proceeds from the Bingo will go towards remodeling the Boys' lavatory at the school. Everyone is urged to attend and to help the Mothers' Club in any way possible in the splendid work they are doing for the Catholic school.

The group is also making plans and working towards a large food sale on the 27th of this month. The time and place will be announced at a later date.

Following the offering of the closing prayer by Sister M. Camillus, refreshments were served.

L. W. V. To Study

The United Nations

The Bay St. Louis Provisional League of Women Voters will study the workings of the United Nations as part of their winter program. The league hopes to learn some of the answers to today's pressing questions.

"What action will the UN be able to take in the new world crisis? How can the UN be effective in helping to establish world peace? In what ways has the UN already accomplished a great deal in just five years? What are the educational and relief duties of UN agencies?" are among the many questions the group will study about the world peace organization.

Oregon Timber On The March

In the largest forest rehabilitation program ever undertaken, the State of Oregon has launched a $10 million program to get Oregon's 750,000 acres of state forest land under full protection.

"The Great Big Doorstep" opened last night at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre. The story revolves around the Crochet family in the Louisiana Cajun country. Members of the Crochet family shown here on their doorstep are from left to right: Larry Scharff, Mrs. M. J. Languirand, Mac Languirand, Jeanne Larroux, Rosalie Coward, Noelle Dick, and Mary Lynn Raymond. The play is based on the novel of E. P. O'Donnell and is directed by C. D. Blair. This is the final production of the season for the local players.

BAY HIGH TIGERS DEFEAT DEMONS

By Jimmy McArthur

On Friday, November 3, the Bay High Tigers journeyed to Hattiesburg where they played the Demonstration Demons on Mississippi Southern College's field. The Demons' Homecoming was damped by a defeat of 12 to 7.

The Demons kicked to the Tigers. Truman Schultz, fullback for the Tigers, received Bay High made the first touchdown. Schultz, Bobby Clapp, halfback, and Frank (Ace) Godwin, quarterback, making five consecutive first downs, brought the ball to the Demons' own three where "Ace" Godwin on a quarterback sneak chalked up six points for the Tigers. A pass from Godwin to John Ginn, end, was incomplete for the extra point.

Schultz kicked off again and Logan of Demons' first downs the Tigers line held. On the Demons' fourth down a pass was incomplete. The Tigers again took over but were forced to kick. A kick from Schultz to Collins of Demons' interception a handoff from Dickinson to Logan and ran 35 yards to the Demons five where he was tackled.

After four unsuccessful tries the Tigers were forced to give the ball to the Demons on their own one foot line. The game ended Bay High 12 Demonstration 7.

S. J. A. Alumnae To Meet Nov. 12th

St. Joseph Academy Alumnae will meet here on Sunday, November 12, at 2:00 p. m. Invitations have been sent to all out of town Alumnae. This meeting has been anticipated for months, and it is the hope of the association that many out of town and local graduates will be able to attend.

The Bay St. Louis Alumnae will be in charge of the tea which will be held. There will be a short business session and election of officers for the coming year will be held.

Students of St. Joseph Academy will present a program.

In the second half Schultz kicked. Demonstration carried the ball to the Tiger seven where Dickinson, Demon quarterback, made a T. D. on a quarterback sneak. Jack Linton, tackle, chalked up the extra point making the score 12-7. Due to the strengthening of both teams neither could make any yardage. Both teams were kicking every fourth down until O'Donnell intercepted a handoff from Dickinson to Logan and ran 35 yards to the Demons five where he was tackled.

M. J. Green Elected President of NOAC

Marion J. Green, son of John A. Green of Bay St. Louis, was re-elected president of the New Orleans Athletic Club for the second successive year.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors held at the NOAC other officers named were Jack Spellman, vice-president; Joseph G. Sumner, treasurer and A. E. Dupre, secretary.

The five new board members installed at the meeting were R. Gordon Tonry, Bernard Kansas, George Brewer, Jack Fontaine and C. Curry. They will fill the expired terms of former members.

The other ten board members include Maurice J. Boudreaux, Arthur Feitel, Marion J. Green, Judge Walter Hamlin, V. J. Knoblock Jr., Fred McFarlane, Rudolph Ramielli, Jack Spellman, Joseph Sumner and Harold Timney.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Camors had as their house guest over the weekend, Mrs. Carlisle Bourgeois and Miss Barbara Roane of Jeanerette, Louisiana.

Mrs. Louis Scarbrough of Columbus, Georgia, is visiting her sister Mrs. Thomas Benton Sellers and Dr. Sellers at their home here.

Mrs. Norton Haas was called to Columbus Monday because of the illness of her mother.

City Echoes

Sheriff and Mrs. E. D. Johnson had visiting them on All Saints Day, Sheriff Johnson's father, M. W. Johnson, of Baton Rouge; Mrs. J. J. Semel and daughter Mrs. Felix Valenti and Mr. and Mrs. Julian Ladner of New Orleans.

Rock-A-Chaws Chalk Up Road Victory

Last Friday night, The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws journeyed to Petal, Miss., and chalked up their first road victory of the year against the Petal Panthers to the tune of 6 to 0.

Held to a scoreless first half, the Rocks kept punching away and finally managed to let Jimmy Holmes circle right end and cut back up to the middle and dash 45 yards for the night's only score. Employing a seven, an eight and sometimes a nine man line, the Panthers were able to keep the Rock ace, Jerry Rooney in check. Several times, he managed to slip through the line only to be caught by the secondary playing in close.

The Rocks passing attack was a fizzle with the result that the Petal club was able to maintain its unorthodox line play. Jimmy Holmes threw well and should have had two TD's by way of the air but ends Jerry Lytle and Teddy Gabb had cold fingers.

Both passes were dropped.

The Petal offense was almost nil. Only once did they get within the 30 yard line of the Rocks and that was the 25. They had all they could do to bottle the Rock offense up and seem to be willing to play for a tie. However, Holmes' scintillating sprint ended all hopes. The Rock-a-chaws were pounding down on the Petal 20 when the final whistle blew to give the Stanislaus eleven their fourth victory in their last five games. The other game ended in a 19 to 19 tie with Columbia, three weeks ago.

Jimmy Holmes, Jerry Rooney and Roger Heitzmann played well on the offense with "Big Luke" Cauruso, Paul Palermo, Don Luc and Al Burns leading on defense. This week the Rocks meet the Forest County Aggies in which, Coach Thames thinks may be a fair but ends Jerry Lytle and Teddy Gabb had cold fingers. That ends the season.

Create Meals to Please Family Appetite

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

During these autumn days when Mother Nature transforms the green leaves into rich shades of scarlet, burnt orange and gold, you homemakers can perform equally marvelous feats with your family's meals.

Created to please your family's appetites and give you a little extra leisure time is a nourishing oven meal.

Let Chicken in Cream be the feature attraction of this meal. You make it as follows:

Cut chicken for frying, dip in milk, roll in flour to which has been added, and fry in 1 1/2 cup hot fat until nicely browned. Place in shallow baking dish, and add 1 tablespoon of finely chopped onion. Pour in 1 1/2 cups thin cream over the chicken. Do not cover.

The remainder of the oven meal could include asparagus casserole, tomato cups, a crisp green salad, up-side-down cake, buttered rolls and coffee or tea for adults and milk for the children.

The whole meal, other than the salad and beverage, may be prepared ahead of time. When ready to use it place it in the oven set at 325 degrees Fahrenheit and cook one hour.

ASPARAGUS CASSEROLE
1 lb. 2 can asparagus
1 1/2 cups grated cheese
4 hard-cooked eggs
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons fat, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk (or 1 cup mushroom soup) dash of pepper
Drain asparagus. Place layers of asparagus and sliced hard-cooked eggs in buttered casserole, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Cover with grated cheese. Pour one-half of mushroom soup over this. Repeat layer and pour remainder of soup over contents of dish. This dish is rich in protein foods.

TOMATO CUPS
6 medium-size tomatoes
1 cup whole kernel corn
1/4 cup bread crumbs
1 cup tomato pulp
2 tablespoons butter
1/2 teaspoon salt
Mell butter, add bread crumbs, stir until slightly browned. Cut thin slices from the stem end of the tomato and remove the pulp. Combine the corn, tomato pulp and 1/2 cup bread crumbs. Fill tomatoes with this mixture.
Salads should look good and taste good as they look. Remember to keep pieces of fruits or vegetables large enough to retain their identity. Never stir ingredients; toss them together lightly. Have salad greens fresh, crisp, clean and thoroughly chilled.
You can prepare slow-baked rolls the week before and properly refrigerate them until needed. Then pop them into the oven just before you call the family to dinner. Bake for 7 to 10 minutes or until golden brown at 400 degrees Fahrenheit.

Other oven meals may include such dishes as stuffed green peppers, macaroni and cheese, tossed vegetable salad with French dressing, gingerbread, buttered rolls and beverage.

This meal can be prepared ahead of time also baked in a 350 degree oven for 45 minutes before serving time.

By Mrs. C. R. Penton

The Harmony W. M. S. met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Iva Knight with members and two visitors present for the program on "Bible Study" under the direction of Mrs. Minnie Ray Pigott.

During the business session, plans were discussed to make a second quilt for the orphans. Mrs. Knight donated the top and lining, and Mrs. Wright Pigott, the cotton. This year members plan to go to the Jackson orphanage and make their donations; they also want to visit the Capital, and the Baptist book store.

During the social hour, refreshments of lemon and chocolate cake, lemon pie and iced tea were served.

Tuesday members of the Harmony W. M. S. gathered in the home of Mrs. Iva Knight to make a quilt for the orphans. They each brought sandwiches and Mrs. Knight furnished tea. Lunch served picnic style was enjoyed by Mrs. Clarence Penton, Mrs. Claudia Mitchell, Mrs. Geraldine Martin, Mrs. Will Miller, Mrs. Prentiss Lott, Mrs. Iva Knight, Mrs. C. B. Saucier, Mrs. Rita Foster, Mrs. Edith Seal and Mrs. Maude Wheat.

Those from this community attending the Picayune-Gulfport game, Gulport, were Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Wheat and son, J. W. Donald Penton, Elroy and Gwen Warren, and Barbara Martin.

Donald and Peaches Penton, Elroy Warren, Kathaleen and Jerry Mitchell, and Grayson Dill attended the Halloween party given as a trick or treat affair in Picayune. They ended up at the home of Mrs. Brown where they watched television while refreshments were being served. Then they attended a party in Salem Community.
